

RandomGram provides another fine opportunity to mix DX with high-quality Morse and accuracy in a relaxed environment. This month's Event # 45 starts at 2200Z on Saturday 25 July 26 and runs for 24 hours.

If not already affiliated with Team Oceania, please advise your choice to affiliate with Team Oceania when requesting your code groups. Just the once because your team affiliation now rolls over between events.

Operational details are available at <https://groups.io/g/RandomGram>, along with last month's results.

The Team Oceania two-hour focus period will be 0700Z ~ 0900Z Sunday 26th when most US stations are not operating, so get your DX contacts in at other times.

Simply calling CQ RG is often unproductive. Registering on the <https://sked.skccgroup.com> webpage helps you to earn points, 'Go Active' in the right-hand column.

This event is auspicious, it is timed exactly right to get familiar with RG in anticipation of a new series of activities to be released imminently. These activities, one of which includes two exciting RG options, will appeal in some way to every type of CW enthusiast, from beginner to master.
